ABOUT ME

From an early age, I've been captivated by technology, computers, and the world of informatics. Alongside a strong passion for IT, my interests span bushcraft, sports, economics, and electronics, providing a well-rounded perspective. I'm eager to dive into various IT roles, including back-end development, DevOps, cybersecurity, and operating system (OS) development. With enthusiasm, energy, and a passion for learning, I aim to seize every opportunity and build a successful career in tech.
